WELCOME TO WEDDINGS BY MARY

Having spent most of my life in the wedding & events industry, helping couples in love celebrate their wedding in style is a tremendous privilege and a huge honour to be asked to undertake.

At the very heart of my job is a love of people, and the chance to get to know you both and the things you love is honestly one of my favourite parts.

Being your wedding planner means bringing to life your wedding where every last detail shines with your personalities, style and overall vision alongside my love of logistics, expert planning skills & wealth of knowledge. I'm here to make things seamless, stunning and stress free. Organising for you a truly unforgettable wedding.

From the moment we start planning, we'll laugh, chat and probably shed a few emotional tears, but most of all have fun over a coffee or perhaps sipping a cheeky glass of champagne, or two.

With love,

Mary xx

A full-page photograph of a wedding couple walking up a grand, ornate staircase. The bride is in a white gown and the groom is in a dark suit. They are seen from behind, walking towards a brightly lit archway at the top of the stairs. The ceiling is a large, circular fresco depicting a celestial scene. The walls are lined with tall, fluted columns and decorative moldings. The lighting is warm and dramatic, highlighting the architectural details and the couple's journey.
